Dear St. Joseph Families and Friends,

As we approach this holiday season, I would like to share with you all those things that I am thankful for. I am thankful for my loving family and friends. I am thankful for their support, their guidance, and their love. I am thankful for the faculty and staff at St. Joseph. Their love and dedication for the students is truly awe-inspiring and their generosity towards each other and myself is overwhelming. I am thankful to all of you for all your support, love, and attention. I am humbled by the responsibility of educating each of your treasures and I pray for each of you and each of them every day.

Blessings,
Mrs. Budd

Family Connection for Sunday, December 11, 2016

It is easy to look at our world and become discouraged by the apparent absence of God and signs of God's salvation. Advent, however, is a season of hope, in which we acknowledge that salvation is both mysteriously present, even in our world, and yet to be fulfilled.

Read together today's Gospel. Think about John's question to Jesus: Are you the One? Jesus does not answer directly, but points to the signs of the kingdom present in his midst.

Together as a family, look through the newspaper for signs of hope that God is at work in our world. Pray that the world will know God's salvation by praying together the Lord's Prayer.
