ST. JOSEPH CATHOLIC SCHOOL *** AUGUST 25, 2015 ISSUE

Dear St. Joseph Families and friends,

As we begin the 120th year at St. Joseph Catholic School I reflect upon the beautiful old trees surrounding our campus. They have withstood the test of time. They have witnessed incredible transformations throughout the years. As their roots took hold in the ground, the school was emerging as a solid beacon in West Tampa. From the people who helped to make this school thrive, the branches took shape creating solid extensions providing shade, support, and family unity. As the seasons come and go, and the leaves take shape, so does our school continue to grow and emerge in this new era. Like the roots of the trees we too are anchored and committed to harvesting our future leaders of tomorrow. I am honored and blessed to continue these traditions serving our children both spiritually and academically in the spirit of St. Joseph.

Blessings,
Mrs. Budd
